J. Curwen & Sons
(1894)

Oh! summer days! Oh! summer days!
What sweet delight ye bring,
When peace and hope and joy and love
Smile over everything.

There's music in the rippling rill,
And in the zephyr's kiss;
The world is thrilled with melody,
And bathed in happiness.

Oh! summer nights! Oh! summer nights!
How full of tender balm,
When peace and hope and joy and love
Are fraught with perfect calm.

There's scarce a sound disturbs the air,
The stars shine bright on high,
And life, in smiling summertime,
Is one long ecstasy.

Meta Crow

John James Dawson (1855-?) was born in Chicago, Illinois. He graduated from University of the City of New York and received a diploma from John Curwen's Sol-fa College in England. He taught in the Public Protestant Schools, Montreal, Canada; was Director of the Department of Music, Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, NYC; taught at the Normal School, McGill University, Montreal, Quebec, Canada; and was Supervisor of music in the schools at Montclair, New Jersey. He was the leading proponent in America of John Curwen's Tonic Sol-fa and authored the book "The voice of the boy: a new conception of its nature and needs in development and use, and of its relation to the adult male voice."

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
