

The March of the
Cameron Men

Tune and words by Mary M. Campbell (1813-1886)

Henry A. Lambeth
(1822-1895)

Henry Albert Lambeth (1822-1895) was born at Alverstoke, Hampshire, England, and studied under the notable musicians Samuel Sebastian Wesley, Thomas Adams, Sterndale Bennett, Henry Smart, and Sir George Smart. He held a number of organist positions in the Portsmouth area before becoming city organist at Glasgow, Scotland, after the Corporation installed a Gray & Davison organ at the City Halls. He also served as organist at St. Mary's Episcopal Church and Park Parish Church. He became the conductor of the Glasgow Choral Union and was founder/conductor of the Glasgow Select Choir, which became known as the Balmoral Choir after twice performing at Balmoral by royal command of the Queen. His choirs traveled throughout Britain and his music was well received with reviews published throughout the country commending "H. A. Lambeth's choirs." He was also editor of "The Scottish Book Of Praise." About 2/3 of the songs are Scottish folk songs with many arranged for four voices. Besides his part-songs, his compositions are mostly for organ and piano, some songs and chants, and hymn tunes. He died in Glasgow.

Tune and words by Mary M. Campbell

Mary M. Campbell (1813-1886) was the fifth daughter of Dugald John Campbell of Skerrington, parish of Old Cumnock, Ayrshire, and his wife Janet Campbell Baillie, daughter of William Baillie, a Lord Polkemmet. The tune became the regimental march of the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, and has is standard in piping repertoire.

There's many a man of the Cameron clan
That has followed his chief to the field;
He has sworn to support him or die by his side,
For a Cameron never can yield.
I hear the pibroch sounding, sounding,
Deep o'er the mountain and glen.
While light-springing footsteps are trampling the heath,
'Tis the march of the Cameron men.

Oh, proudly they walk, but each Cameron knows
He may tread on the heather no more;
But boldly he follows his chief to the field,
Where his laurels were gathered before.
I hear the pibroch sounding, sounding,
Deep o'er the mountain and glen.
While light-springing footsteps are trampling the heath,
'Tis the march of the Cameron men.

The moon has arisen, it shines on that path
Now trod by the gallant and true;
High, high are their hopes, for their chieftain has said
That whatever men dare they can do.
I hear the pibroch sounding, sounding,
Deep o'er the mountain and glen.
While light-springing footsteps are trampling the heath,
'Tis the march of the Cameron men.

Mary M. Campbell (1813-1886)
